Chris and Susan Willard met at UMASS and have been married for over 30 years. They now live in Orlando and speak at FamilyLife's "Weekend to Remember" Conferences all across the nation.

Dr. Johnny and Lezlyn Parker are relationship architects who help couples build marriages that flourish. They have spoken nationally for Family Life's "Weekend to Remember" marriage conferences for over 10 years and have served chaplains of the Washington Redskins.

Mike and Erin, as new parents, endured a tragedy that really challenged them. Instead of a devastated marriage however, God has helped them birth a ministry rooted in redemption and forgiveness which has blessed countless others trying to cope with difficulty and discouragement in their lives.

Since serving with FamilyLife from 1996-2001 the Normans have continuously been ministering to couples throughout New England. Bernie is presently serving as the ISI Marriage Director. Bernie and Gale have been married for 37 years and have four adult children and seven grandchildren.

Navigating life together requires time, intention, commitment and so often ... a plan! Ryan and Kelly are New England natives with a passion for equipping couples to have a marriage which will not just survive but also flourish.

Willie has spoken nationally for the past 30 years on marriage and family topics and is the author of Tools For A Great Marriage. He aims to inspire his audiences with practical information that challenges couples and parents to work together through relational issues with a Christ-centered approach.

Twelve Seminars Including:

Breakthrough Tips For Communication In Marriage

Everyone can learn to listen well and communicate better. This seminar will discuss proven tips to dramatically improve communication in your marriage.

How to Defeat the Four Marriage Killers

There are four behaviors that are particularly detrimental to relationships: criticism, contempt, defensiveness, and stonewalling. This seminar will help couples identify these behaviors in their relationship and learn how to prevent and defeat them.

The Heart Of Acceptance

A God-honoring marriage is not created by finding a flawless spouse, but by allowing God's perfect love and acceptance to flow through an imperfect person - you - toward another imperfect person - your mate.

Leaving A Godly Legacy As You Provide And Protect

What kind of legacy will your marriage leave for your future generations? Will the decisions you make as you provide and protect those in your care maximize the godly legacy you long to leave your children and grandchildren?

Forgiving Within And Beyond Your Marriage

Do you need help moving beyond a deep hurt from your past? Or maybe you need forgiveness in your home or marriage. Come learn how forgiving brings freedom even in the most unexpected ways.

Intimacy: From Ordinary To Extraordinary

Your marital intimacy is a reflection of the oneness you are pursuing as a couple. Embracing the differences between the way God has designed men and women is critical to this oneness.

When God Writes Your Marital Story

Your marriage is telling a story. Is it telling the story you want? It can as you and your spouse surrender your agenda and allow Jesus to be the Author of your story.

Your Marriage In 3D

How do you and your spouse stay close while growing your family, your ministry, or career? God designed marriage for oneness but couples do not naturally drift toward oneness. When oneness is lacking, aloneness emerges.
